With summer just around the corner, the Atlantic City BeachFest Concert Series has announced its second beach concert. The Chainsmokers will perform on the A.C. shore Sunday, July 29.

The EDM/pop duo are known for hits like "Closer," "Paris," "Don't Let Me Down" and "Something Just Like This." They will join special guest Bazzi for the July concert, the second in the beach concert series, with the first taking place July 1 and featuring Sam Hunt.

“We are so excited for our show in Atlantic City on July 29. We can’t think of a better place to be during the summer,” said The Chainsmokers. “As New Yorkers we always used to come down to AC this time of year and the vibes and weather was just perfect. Back then, we were playing in front of a few hundred people if that, so to be returning now and have the chance to do our show properly in front of tens of thousands of people is pretty surreal. We are going to be bringing a show A.C. has never seen before and look forward to sharing this really special moment with families, fans and people just coming to have a great weekend away!”
