

'Cannoli, Latkes & Guilt, The Therapy Continues' comes to Caesars

CANNOLI, LATKES & GUILT, THE THERAPY CONTINUES

CAESARS ATLANTIC CITY // 3:30 P.M. WEDNESDAY, APRIL 25

WHAT IS IT: Steve Solomon, the creator of the show “My Mother’s Italian, My Father’s Jewish, and I’m in Therapy,” is back at it with “Cannoli, Latkes & Guilt,” a new show detailing his all-too-familiar past, growing up in a Jewish-Italian family.

WHAT TO EXPECT: Solomon pulls from those familiar archetypes we all know from our own families and communities to create a wacky group of characters that populate “Cannoli, Latkes & Guilt.” The show is full of plenty of laughs and maybe a few tears during the more touching moments of the show.

WEBSITE: Caesars.com

SHOW INFO: Tickets are $76.