

Aaron Lewis brings some Staind favorites and new songs to The Borgata

By SEAN LOUGHLIN

AARON LEWIS

BORGATA // 9 P.M. FRIDAY, JUNE 14 AND SATURDAY, JUNE 15; $72, $82

WHAT TO EXPECT: Staind front man Aaron Lewis began a solo career in 2011 and hasn't done much looking back. He's released two more solo albums since and has been successful as a live act, re-inventing himself with an approach that is a lot more contemporary country and less post-grunge. On Friday night fans can look forward to hearing a few Staind favorites along with solo songs, including tracks from the singer's new album "State I'm In" such as "It Keeps On Workin'," "If I Were the Devil" and "Love Me."
